POSO

"a place to feel comfort"

Strategically located at Poso City Mall, situated on the main road of Trans Sulawesi between city center and the way to Palu, it is an ideal choice for those who looking for "a place to feel comfort" close to all key destinations in Poso Regency.

Poso is the administrative capital of Poso Regency, is located exactly in the middle of the province on the shore of the Gulf of Tomini, right in the central part of Sulawesi island, and is the main port and transportation hub for the north-eastern coast of Sulawesi. It is not to be confused with Lake Poso, which is some distance inland. With the total of population of over 40,000, Poso is one of the biggest and the oldest towns in the province.

The central location of Poso has made it a stopover either from the north to the south, or from west to the east of Sulawesi. It is for this reason that the population of Poso consists of many different ethnicities, religions and backgrounds. People living in Poso are spread from the coastal area to the mountainous region, with the main sources of income being farming and fishing.
